MISS RANEY'S DEBUT

Brilliant Social Event at the Leon Hotel

MANY VISITORS PRESENT

Refreshments Served at Residence of Judge and Mrs. Raney.

Society turned out en masse Tuesday evening to attend the dance given at the Leon hotel by Judge George P. Raney and his charming wife in honor of their daughter, Miss Clyde Raney. The event was a success in every respect, and the assemblage was pronounced one of the most brilliant of the city.

Miss Raney is an extremely attractive and popular young lady, and her debut is an event of great importance to the society circle of the Capital City, promising a continuous round of pleasure.

The spacious parlors of the Leon were appropriately decorated for the occasion, palms and bamboo predominating. The beautiful costumes of the more beautiful ladies imparted an attractiveness to the brilliantly illuminated room that was pleasing to the eye and enchanting to the souls of the revelers.

The large assemblage "tripped the light fantastic," the pleasures of the evening being unalloyed, until the stroke of twelve, when all present repaired to the handsome residence of Judge Raney, on Calhoun street, where dainty refreshments were served.

In addition to the elite of Tallahassee, quite a number of guests were here from neighboring towns, and all enjoyed one of the most delightful evenings of their lives. Mr. George Bower, of Bainbridge, and Miss Clyde Raney led the german at the Leon.

Among the guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Victor F. Balkcom, Mr. and Mrs. T. Eugene Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Lively and Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Croom; Misses Mary D. Lewis, Courtney Walker, Ella Nash, Annie Rawls, Mary Page Randolph, Gertrude Chittenden, Lettie Girardeau, of Monticello, Henrietta Ames, Elizabeth Pearce, Evelyn Winthrop, Jessie Edmondson, Evelyn Lewis, Kate Moore, Carrie Edwards, Eliza McDougal and Edith Elliott.

The gentlemen present were: Messrs. Guy Winthrop, Edward Lewis, Richard C. Long, Jr., J. A. Edmondson, Alexander H. Williams, Charles W. Perkins, Robert W. Williams, Jr., R. E. Crawford, Earle Perkins, F. Chittenden, George G. Bower, of Bainbridge; S. L. Dozier, Glover Johnson, Frank Winthrop, Walter L. Wight, W. Munro McIntosh, Walter Hammond, of Thomasville; C. M. Ausley, Dexter McBride, of Bainbridge; Robert L. Mickler, Hayward Randolph, Jr., James H. Randolph and L. G. Papy.

TALLAHASSEE'S FUTURE.

The year 1902 has been a memorable one in Tallahassee. It has witnessed many improvements, and the Capital City has taken on a new lease of life. The laboring people have had plenty of work, consequently they have, for the most part, been contented, prosperous and happy.

Business in all branches has been good; in fact, better than many anticipated. The merchants all express satisfaction at the volume of trade transacted. Mr. W. R. Wilson, one of our leading merchants, stated to The Tallahasseean man, that the year's business showed very gratifying results, and the outlook for 1902 was exceedingly bright.

This shows that the people generally have confidence in the future of Tallahassee. The city is on a move that is decidedly onward and upward. There is no boom, simply a wholesome growth that is bound to enhance real estate values, and bring new settlers here. An era of prosperity is dawning on the Capital City. This has been some time coming, but it is in sight at last, and if the people will do their part the next ten years will witness a growth unparalleled in the history of the place.

We are getting out of the rut of old fogyism, in which we have been foundering helplessly for several years. The idea is to keep out of them, and the best way to do this is for everybody to put his shoulder to the wheel and push all together. If we work harmoniously during the coming year it will be an easy matter to place Tallahassee in the front ranks of the prosperous cities of the South.

Let our motto be "Onward and Upward," our actions show vim, vigor and vitality, and we are bound to get there with both feet.

The enlargement of the State Capitol, the new business and residence buildings now going up, and the near approach of two new railroads have infused new life into Tallahassee, and neighboring towns will have to get a move on themselves if they wish to keep in the race with the Capital City.

A CHRISTMAS TREE.

Some months ago Miss Malissa Hill, of Chicago, came to Tallahassee for the benefit of her health. She was in the last stages of consumption, and it was hoped that the salubrious climate of the Sunny South would prove beneficial. For a time she seemed to rally, but the dread disease had too strong a grip, and a few weeks ago her gentle spirit took its flight.

During her short stay here the young lady, who possessed a most lovable disposition, became greatly interested in the Misses Childs' kindergarten school. She was very enthusiastic, and promised the little folks a jolly Christmas tree. Miss Hill looked forward to the event with great pleasure, and anticipated a delightful time. But, alas for human hopes, she went to spend Christmas in a happier home, and her lifeless body went North for burial.

When Miss Hill first conceived the idea of giving a Christmas tree, she mentioned it to her father. He did not let the matter drop, however, and early this week a large box arrived from the city on the lake for the Misses Childs' kindergarten. On Tuesday the little tots were treated to a well loaded tree, in honor of their late friend.

MRS. ROBERT MUNRO DEAD.

A telegram was received in Tallahassee Thursday afternoon from Tampa, announcing the death in that city of Mrs. Robert Munro.

No particulars were given as to the cause of death or duration of her illness. Deceased was a Miss Rachel Henderson, formerly of this city. She was a cousin of Miss Nannie Gallie, and has other distant relatives here. Remains will be brought to Tallahassee via the Seaboard Air Line railway at 3:15 this afternoon and will be taken direct to the City Cemetery for burial.

Her husband, Mr. Robert Munro, was formerly in the mercantile business in Tallahassee with Mr. James Munro. After retiring from business Mr. and Mrs. Munro resided for a number of years on South Duval street, finally leaving for Tampa, to be near their daughters, Mrs. Isaac Craft and Mrs. A. C. Gwinn.

Rev. W. E. H. Mabry, of the Methodist church, will conduct the funeral services. The pall-bearers will be: Messrs. George Lewis, George W. Saxon, W. F. Quail, A. Stevenson, T. H. Randolph, W. M. McIntosh, Jr., George B. Perkins and John McDougall.

BEAT OUT OF AN UNLAWFUL PENSION.

A Mexican war veteran and prominent editor writes: "Seeing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, I am reminded that as a soldier in Mexico, in '41 and '48, I contracted Mexican diarrhoea and this remedy has kept me from getting an increase in my pension for on every renewal a dose of it restores me." It is unequalled as a quick cure for diarrhoea and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Wight & Bro. and all medicine dealers.

RESPECTED CITIZEN GONE.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Felkel, who died Christmas morning at the old homestead "Rome," a notice of which appeared in last week's Tallahasseean, was the mother of Tax Assessor H. T. Felkel, of this city. Deceased was in her 71st year. Two years ago she received a fall which broke her hip. She never recovered from the accident, and this is ascribed as the cause of her death.

Mrs. Felkel was a member of the Methodist church, and had been for several years. She was a lady who had many warm friends, who sincerely regret her demise. Remains were buried in Pisgah cemetery near Centreville.

Four sons and two daughters survive her, as follows: H. T. Felkel, of Tallahassee, tax assessor of Leon county; Mrs. A. E. Barnett and Mr. J. A. Felkel, who reside at the old homestead; Messrs. W. W. and Robert R. Felkel, of Metcalf, Ga., and Mrs. Clara Anderson, of Woodville.

Putting food into a diseased stomach is like putting money into a pocket with holes. The money is lost. All its value goes for nothing. When the stomach is diseased, with the allied organs of digestion and nutrition, the food which is put into it is largely lost. The nutriment is not extracted from it. The body is weak and the blood impoverished. The pocket can be mended. The stomach can be cured. That sterling medicine for the stomach and the blood, doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acts with peculiar promptness and power on the organs of digestion, and nutrition. It is a positive cure for almost all disorders of these organs, and cures also such diseases of the heart, blood, liver and other organs, as have their cause in a weak or diseased condition of the stomach.

Prof. Buchholz, of the Florida State College, spent a portion of the holidays with friends in Tampa. The professor was formerly superintendent of public instruction in Hillsborough county.

Mr. J. A. Pass, Bowman, Ga., writes: "One of my children was very delicate and we despaired of raising it. For months my wife and I could hardly get a night's rest until we began the use of Pitts' Carminative. We found great relief from the first bottle." Pitts' Carminative acts promptly and cures permanently. It is pleasant to the taste, and children take it without coaxing. It is free from injurious drugs and chemicals.

Mr. Henry Wharton has entered the Florida State College to complete his education. Mr. Wharton has been teaching in Madison county for several months.

IT GIRDLES THE GLOBE.

NOVEL SOCIETY EVENT

Mr. and Mrs. Sweeting Entertained Wednesday Night

HONOR OF MISSES ROGERO

A Large Gathering of Young Society Folks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Sweeting and their charming daughter, Miss Cassie, entertained a large number of friends Wednesday night, in honor of their guests, the Misses Rogero, of Jacksonville.

The occasion was one of the most recherche ever held in Tallahassee and the young society folks present spent a delightfully pleasant evening. Mr. and Mrs. Sweeting are noted for their hospitality, while Miss Cassie is extremely popular. They always try to get up something new and novel for the entertainment of their guests.

The event Wednesday evening was no exception to the rule. On the contrary, it seemed to surpass any of their previous efforts. Many innocent and amusing games were indulged in, and the hilarity continued until the "wee sma' hours" of a new day were ushered in. The game that furnished the greatest fun was the guessing contest. The Misses Rogero, of Jacksonville, and Miss Cassie Sweeting were all placed in a row and the problem to solve was: If all three of the young ladies were one young lady, how high would she be, how much would she weigh, and how old would she be? The winner received a prize. The guessing at their respective ages, weight and height, and the attempt to concentrate the figures and harmonize them into one being kept the guests in a constant roar.

There were other guessing contests and laughable games, and delicious refreshments were served. At 1 o'clock Thursday morning the party broke up, after an evening of pleasure that will be long remembered by the happy guests.

AT REAL CASH VALUE

Governor Says Property Must Be so Assessed

LETTER TO TAX COMPILERS

Pointing Out the Law and Insisting On its Enforcement.

Tallahassee, Fla., Dec. 17, 1901.

Numerous and serious complaints are received from nearly every portion of the State that much property liable to taxation escapes assessment and also that valuations in many cases are too low. The following provisions of the revenue law, Chapter 4322, approved June 1st, 1895, relating to assessments and valuations are mandatory.

Section 19.—Every Assessor shall require any person giving in the amount or list of his personal property to make oath before him that the same is full and correct, and any person refusing to take such oath shall not be permitted afterwards to reduce the valuation made by such Assessor of his personal property for that year. The valuation of any item of property by the taxpayer shall in no case prevent the Assessor from determining its true value, and if he shall ascertain that the valuation of any item of property is too small, he shall increase the same to its true value. If any taxpayer feels aggrieved at the valuation placed upon any item of property by the Tax Assessor, he shall complain to the County Commissioners at their meeting in August, that the valuation may be properly adjusted.

Section 20.—All personal estate liable to taxation, the value of which shall not have been specified under oath as aforesaid, shall be estimated by the Assessor at its true cash value according to his best judgment and information, and his failure by neglect or refusal to make such estimate shall be a cause of suspension by the governor.

Section 22.—The Assessor shall ascertain by personal inspection, when not already sufficiently acquainted therewith, the value of the lands and assess them at their full cash value.

Section 26.—The Board of County Commissioners shall have full power to equalize the assessment of the real estate in their respective counties, and for that purpose may raise or lower the value fixed by the Assessor on any particular piece of real estate, but cannot raise or lower the entire assessment of the county, their powers being only to equalize.

It shall be unlawful for the County Commissioners to lower the assessment of any personal property given in by the owner or assessed by the Assessor, which shall not have been specified under oath. The County Commissioners failing to obey this provision shall be subject to a fine of fifty dollars each and suspension.

The Tax Assessors are charged with the imperative duty of ascertaining all property liable to taxation and of assessing all real property at "its full cash value" and all personal property at "its true cash value." The County Commissioners are charged with "full power to equalize the assessment of the real estate in their respective counties, and for that purpose may raise or lower the value fixed by the Assessor on any particular piece of real estate, but cannot raise or lower the entire assessment of the county, the powers being only to equalize. It shall be unlawful for the County Commissioners to lower the assessment of any personal property given in by the owner or assessed by the Assessor, which shall not have been specified under oath.

To assess property does not mean to copy the description and value from a tax book of a previous year, but it means that the Assessor must ascertain the proper description and full cash value of all property liable to taxation. It is the duty of the assessors to make diligent inquiry and to ascertain from any and all sources including the public records in the several county offices what the lands and other property are, or are not subject to taxation. The commission allowed to assessors is to compensate for this work to be properly done. This law was enacted in 1895, and it is presumed that all officers know the law. It is their sworn duty to faithfully perform the duties of the offices they hold as prescribed by law.

It is also the imperative duty of the Tax Assessors to omit from the tax books all lands not subject to taxation. Among the lands not subject to taxation are those certified or sold to the State for any previous year for non-payment of taxes unless they are sold by or redeemed from the State. The revenue law provides in Section 24, that "the assessor shall not assess any lot or parcel of land certified or sold to the State for any previous year unless such lot or parcel of land so certified or sold shall be included in the list furnished by the Comptroller to the Assessors as now provided by law."

Section 27 provides that "the Tax Assessors shall receive no compensation for assessing lands which are not subject to taxation." This makes it the imperative duty of the Tax Assessor to omit from the assessment rolls "any lot or parcel of land certified or sold to the State for any previous year" unless directed otherwise by the Comptroller.

The State will not hereafter suffer because lists of lands redeemed or sold have not been regularly furnished the Tax Assessors for the reason that lands heretofore sold for non-payment of taxes had never been stricken from the tax books and for the further reason that by the Comptroller's circulars, the assessors are very properly directed to omit from the tax books all and only those lands covered by the tax certificates now held by the State. The lists of the certificates held by the State on September 1st, 1901, are on file in the offices of the clerks of the circuit court and are always accessible to the assessors. With the aid of these lists the assessors can and should, under the law, ascertain from the reports of tax sales on file in the offices of the clerks of the circuit court and of the Tax Collectors, every "lot or parcel of land, certified or sold to the State, for any previous year" covered by the certificates now held by the State in custody of the clerks, and should eliminate all of them from the assessment rolls except those reported to the assessors by the clerks each month since as redeemed or sold. This is not so difficult a task as some imagine, and even if it is, the law positively requires that it shall be done. In short, it is the sworn duty of every Tax Assessor to ascertain all property liable to taxation and to assess all real property at "its full cash value," and all personal property at "its true cash value," and it is also the sworn duty of every Tax Assessor to omit from the tax books all property, real and personal, not subject to taxation. Any information concerning valuation of bank or corporate stocks not accessible in your county that can be supplied from the State Departments will be furnished on application.

Yours respectfully,
W. S. JENNINGS,
Governor.

A PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.

"I was troubled for about seven years with my stomach and in bed half my time," says E. Demick, Somerville, Ind. "I spent about $1,000 and never could get anything to help me until I tried Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have taken a few bottles and am entirely well." You don't live by what you eat, but by what you digest and assimilate. If your stomach doesn't digest your food you are really starving. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does the stomach's work by digesting the food. You don't have to diet. Eat all you want. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cures all stomach troubles.

DRAIN EVERGLADES:

Capitalists Engaged in a Big Scheme

IT AMOUNTS TO MILLIONS

Land Will be Used to Grow Vast Quantities of Cane

An immense land deal, involving $5,000,000, in which State Chemist R. E. Rose, of Tallahassee, and other prominent Floridians are deeply interested, is now being negotiated.

This deal is of great importance to the entire State of Florida, and if it is consummated will result in the reclamation of a large area of land in the Everglades. The Milwaukee Sentinel of recent date contained the following story of the scheme:

"Moritz Fitchenberg, 2816 Highland boulevard, president of the League Cycle Manufacturing Company, of this city, will return today from Jacksonville, Fla., where a contract was made by Fitchenberg and Henry Benedict, formerly of Milwaukee, but now of New York, to finance a $5,000,000 project to drain a part of the Everglades of Florida, to be used later in sugar-growing."

"The concern which gave the contract is the Florida East Coast Drainage and Sugar Company, and its holdings in the Everglades region of Florida amount of 1,000,000 acres. Parts of the Everglades have already been drained, and the land left has proved most excellent for sugar-growing. The immense scale upon which it is proposed to create new sugar lands was conceived some years ago, and recently the company was formed to do the work. Messrs. Fitchenberg and Benedict are now under contract, according to statements made at Jacksonville, for financing the scheme."

"The Florida East Coast Drainage and Sugar Company making the contract is represented by J. K. Parrott, G. R. Pridie, James E. Ingraham, E. M. Ashley, James S. Murray, James M. Shoemaker, and R. E. Rose. The company holds over 1,000,000 acres of land near the lower east coast. They propose to drain it, plant sugar cane, erect factories and make sugar. They claim that they can make 2,000,000 tons annually. These lands, as has been proved in the past, are the richest in the State and produce immense crops. Government surveys in the past, some of them taken when Jefferson Davis was secretary of war, prove that the drainage can be effected."

"Owing to the presence of Mr. Parrott and Mr. Ingraham, both high officials in Mr. Flagler's East Coast railroad, in this company, it is reported that the Standard Oil magnate is interested in this move, as his road opens up that section, and makes such an enterprise feasible, and the rumor is given much credence. The company states that work will be started very soon."

CHILDREN ESPECIALLY LIABLE.

Burns, bruises and cuts are extremely painful and if neglected often result in blood poisoning. Children are especially liable to such mishaps because they are so careless. As a remedy DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is unequalled. It draws out the fire, stops the pain, soothes the wound. Beware of counterfeits. Sure cure for piles. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured my baby's eczema after two physicians gave him up." So writes James Mock, N. Webster, Ind. "The sores were so bad she soiled two to five dresses a day."

TRAGEDY AT ARRAN.

Arran, in Wakulla county, was the scene of a tragedy last Saturday that cast a gloom over the entire community.

About 2 o'clock in the afternoon Judson Cox, aged nineteen years, went over to the home of his uncle, Mr. Joe Harvey, to go hunting with his cousin young Steve Harvey.

Judson was sitting on the front porch chatting pleasantly with his aunt. Steve started, and as Judson arose his gun was accidentally discharged. The contents entered Cox's left thigh, just below the groin. The main artery was severed, and although everything possible was done for the young man, he died in thirty-five minutes. The accident occurred within 150 yards of the railroad station.

The victim of the tragedy was one of the most popular young men of Wakulla county, and his funeral was attended by a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends.
